

TANKCLEANING VENLO B.V.

Venlo, May 2018

Privacy statement

Claessen Tankcleaning Venlo BV saves personal information in function of own communication and administration. Below you can read how this personal data is collected, preserved and protected.

Your personal information will be disclosed to third parties in any form provided there are no legal provisions to the contrary exist, such as for example in the case of mandatory declarations under trade or tax regulations.

Retention of data

We will retain the personally identifiable information as long as necessary to the service you have requested, provided there are no legal provisions to the contrary exist, such as for example in the case of mandatory data retention periods under trade or tax regulations.

Safety

Claessen Tankcleaning Venlo BV takes technical and organisational measures, to be released by you, to protect information from intentional or unintentional misuse, loss, destruction or access by unauthorized persons. Our protection measures are constantly reviewed and updated in accordance with the latest technology.

Right of access and correction of data

You have the right to information on all your stored personal data, to view and if necessary, to modify or delete it. To do this, it is sufficient to send an e-mail to info@tankcleaningvenlo.nl. Removal of your personal data will be done unless we are legally required to keep the relevant information.